Performula

A Strand Camp with tested formulas designed to enhance musical theatre skills!

This Summer, students from Cobb County and surrounding areas will discover a new “strand” of summer camp called PERFORMULA. In the Earl Smith Strand Theatre’s musical theatre laboratory, young performers will focus entirely on music, dance, and drama, discovering the formulas for performing success! The week-long camp will yield a Friday night performance on The Strand’s Stephen W. Imler Stage.

The Performula camp concept was developed by Strand Executive Director Earl Reece. The former educator-turned-theatre director served as the director of the Cobb County Center for Excellence in the Performing Arts at Pebblebrook High School for 14 years, significantly growing the program while preparing students for the real world of performing arts. Under his leadership, graduates of the Pebblebrook program secured millions in scholarships to a long list of prestigious universities and performed on Broadway in close to 30 shows and in numerous national tours.

Arts Education

The staff at the Earl Smith Strand Theatre believe that an education without the arts is not a complete education – and there’s plenty of research to back it up. Students who participate in the arts achieve! The Strand’s education mission is to promote an engaged, diverse, and responsive theater community, while instilling in students a lifelong love of and participation in the theatrical arts.

“Theatre does far more than just entertain – it enriches the community and provides nourishment for the mind and the soul,” said Earl Reece. “The staff at The Strand is committed to providing these opportunities and making them a reality.”

About The Strand

After sitting dark for over 30 years, the 1935 Art Deco Strand was renovated and reopened in 2009 for your viewing pleasure. We hope to see you at a show soon – you have the opportunity to see musical productions, classic movies, concerts, and more! The unique facility is also available for corporate and private events such as workshops, receptions, rehearsal dinners, and holiday functions. The Friends of The Strand, Inc. is a 501(c)(3) organization.
